

EXHIBIT 76

NewTimes MIAMI
ITALIAN STYLE KITCHENS | FAST - AFFORDABLE | QUICK DELIVERY
CLICK HERE FOR SPECIALS AND LOCATIONS

SHORT ORDER THE MIAMI NEW TIMES FOOD BLOG

News Music Calendar Restaurants Search Miami New Times
Blogs Columns Best of Bars Clubs Archives Recent Picks Promotions Coupons/Deals
Arts Movies The Ads Classifieds

TOP Blog STORIES

Search Search Wine & Michael Symon Wins Burger Bash Again
By Ben Johnson

Chief Interviews Jan Jorgensen Talks About the Misuse of the Word 'Chef'
By Lee Klein

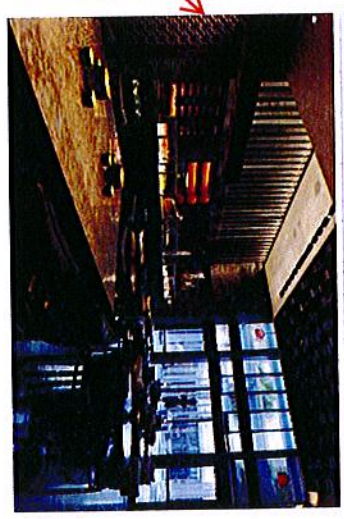

Search Search Wine & Fitz-Carlton's Foie Gras Torchon Burger
By Ben Johnson

Favorite Bishes 64 Chicken Chili Con Queso at Dell Lane Cafe
By Lee Klein

Food The Grill At The Setai Relaunches

By Lee Klein, Wed, Dec 10 2008 @ 3:30AM
Categories: Food

Share Like Submit 0 Comments (1) Diggs

The interior of The Grill at The Setai (as well as The Restaurant portion) is arguably one of the most beautiful in Miami-Dade. When it comes to the Zen-like outdoor pods-on-the-pond dining area there is no argument -- this is the most beautiful al fresco setting. The cuisine here has always been ambitious, but it didn't really come together until Jonathan Wright took over the chef reigns. Tonight, he and sous chef Anthony V are relaunching The Grill with a revised menu that looks notably enticing.

Extensive raw bar selections run the gamut from Florida stone crabs to Scottish langoustines, and from house-smoked salmon to Pickle Points oysters. The character section offers Jamón Ibérico de Bellota of varying ages, along with foie gras torchon and oïle. Pumpkin soup with morrons and black truffle, macarrone sauce, tomatoes, as da

Most Popular Stories

- Viewed Commented Recent
- Welch's Lies About Its Juice, Pays $30 Million and No One Notices
 - SBWFF 2011: Michael Symon Wins Burger Bash Again, Celebrity-Sightings Abound
 - More Miami Food Truck Gatherings Cancelled, Future in Doubt UPDATED
 - NetKesis and Peacock Café Coming Soon
 - Update: More Miami Food Truck Gatherings Cancelled, Future in Doubt
- More Most Popular...

VOICE DEAL OF THE DAY:
Presented by NewTimes 50-90% Off
Click here to sign up.

VOICE DEAL OF THE DAY:
Presented by NewTimes

miaminewtimes.com
1-055-458
The Wave Design Pte. Ltd.
Unpublished Photographs
2005 (D) setai804 - setai958;setai960 - setai1179
setai1094

minewtimes.com
 VA 1-432-332
 The Wave Design Pte. Ltd.
 Photographs 2005 (B)
 setai211

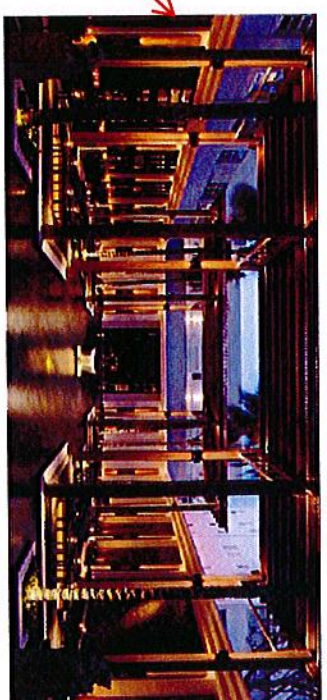

Business Hotel Drama: Setai Ousts Management at Midnight, Eden Roc Takes Theirs to Court

By Kyle Marzeneder Tue, Apr 3 2012 at 10:41 AM
 Categories: Business

Big drama at two of Miami's best known hotels this weekend, as two iconic resorts had some dramatic shake-ups on the business side. The owners of the Eden Roc, a Miami Beach classic, are taking their management company to court. Meanwhile, the owners of the Setai, a member of the new guard of Miami Beach luxury hotels, just decided to oust their management company at midnight on Saturday. Most rank-and-file employees will likely keep their jobs, but the higher-ups are apparently out of work.

In some cases, owning a hotel and actually operating that hotel are two different things. The business that owns a resort will contract a company that specializes in hotel management to take care of the day-to-day business of the property. Those are the types of companies that do everything from setting room rates to making sure you have enough towels in your room. However, owners and management don't always get along.

The zen courtyard at the Setai has new parts. The Setai is owned by a subsidiary of what's left of Lehman Brothers. Since the hotel opened in 2004 it's been operated by Singapore-based General Hotel Management, but apparently the zen-like property at 20th Street and Collins Avenue hasn't quite had zen-like profits or service lately.

So at midnight on Saturday, William Brewer III, a lawyer representing the ownership, orchestrated an ouster of GHM and brought in a new company in the early hours of Saturday. The transition came as a surprise to GHM, and apparently police were on the scene, but things seemed to go smoothly.

Most Popular Stories

- Viewed Commented Recent
- Trayvon Martin: No, That's Not His Facebook Page Showing "Gangster" Photos UPDATED
- Florida Woman Offers Sex in Exchange for Two McDonald's Dollar Menu Cheeseburgers
- University of Miami Football Team Advertising For "Any Student That is At Least 6'1 And 230+ Pounds"
- Miami Dolphins Might Change Logo, Look in 2013
- Ultra Music Festival: Here's a Girl Having a Full-Blown Romance With a Tree. UPDATED With Bonus Naked Dude
- More Most Popular...

TODAY'S DEAL IN MIAMI

Half off a Concealed Weapons Course
GET IT NOW

Catch
 GRILL • BAR
 THURSDAY NIGHT
 LIVE MUSIC 7PM - 10PM
 RAW BAR ACTION
 STATION
 FRIDAY NIGHT 6PM - 10PM
 Located lobby level in the Miami Marriott Biscayne Bay

There was an error fetching the like box for the specified page.

sign up
 Sign up for free email news with a